We returned to classroom A152 after the tour and were given additional updates on the LUSD Board approved change order to construction.

Dr. Nicholas explained that the change order went from vocational education to culinary engineering, biomed, and networking. He explained they did a community outreach and spoke with current students.

There was an increased cost of $1,465, 072.92 due to additional technology, plumbing, etc from the original design.

Vocational education will still hopefully be offered down the line using the theatre set construction tools and workspace.

The concept of pathways to jobs was explained to the committee as a direction of the district. Students can graduate high school with certifications that will enable them to transition directly into a skilled employment field.

Current district attendance was at 4700, with an anticipated 5,000 by next year.

Also discussed was a Bond investor's update stating that the district chose a strategy to sell all bonds at once given the uncertain financial forecast and that proved to be a good idea for the district finances.
